Spirit

Northwestern State College

Alva, Oklahoma

TO THOSE striving to build a right peace in a bleeding world. . .

NOT THOSE ALONE who are giving their bodies as flesh sacrifice to the delusion that war, the tool of power and mother of hatred, can beget security,

BUT ALSO TO THOSE who are devoting their minds, efforts, and emotions to the ideals of wisdom, those thinkers--teachers, preachers, statesmen, scientists, scholars, writers--who know that peace is based on mutual trust, who know that trust grows only where clear, unprejudiced understanding can show to the people, the people as they are, who know that they must prepare the way for understanding.

TO THESE, whose task is just begun, whose lives shall be cast as tinder into the inferno of ignorance, power, and fear, but from whose ashes future generations, groping for truth, shall catch and fan to life the spark of Justice . . .

TO THESE, The Peacemakers, we dedicate the RANGER SPIRIT OF '51.

Administration

PRESIDENT'S HOME

PRESIDENT SABIN C. PERCEFULL

SABIN C. PERCEFULL has been President of Northwestern State College for eight years, having assumed this position in 1943. Vitally concerned with all college problems, President Percefull is always willing to discuss any college matter and is willing to lend a helping hand in every way possible.

He served as Dean of Faculty in 1923, was Acting-President in the summer of 1928 and was again Acting-President from April, 1935, to February, 1936.

He received his A. B. degree from Baylor University, his A. M. degree from Brown University, where he was a Marsten Scholar. He is also a graduate student of Iowa State University and the University of Texas.

Northwestern feels fortunate in having a man such as Mr. Percefull for president.

Deans

Dean of Administration

DR. T. C. CARTER

The demanding role of Dean of the college is filled by Dr. Carter, professor of biology, who shoulders many responsibilities. His jovial spirit and keen sense of humor make him well-liked by the student body.

Dr. Carter has the distinction of having served on the NSC faculty longer than any other member employed at present. He has held his present position for 43 years, since 1908.

Dean of Men

C. E. CAMPBELL

Well-qualified for his position as dean of men, Mr. Campbell enjoys associating with students and helping them with their individual problems.

One of his many duties is serving as co-ordinator of the counselors. In addition, he is associate professor of education and psychology.

Dean of Women

DR. MYRNA BOYCE

Dr. Boyce is outstanding as a guide and counselor, always ready with a friendly word. A versatile personality, she is known for her inspiring and educational class lectures. Besides serving as dean of women, Dr. Boyce is actively engaged as professor of history.

Directors of school spirit are the members of the Student Council, a representative body made up of three members of each college class. The Council makes plans for improving conditions and character of student life and represents student opinion in college matters.

This year the Council sponsored freshman initiation, Sadie Hawkins week, many dances and inaugurated something new--an all school formal dinner-dance during the Christmas season.

The spirit of progress of the Council this year was embodied in this huge sign that was erected on the highway, visible to all motorists entering Alva. The Council, working with the Alva Chamber of Commerce, constructed this sign and plans are under way for more signs to be put up with the help of Alva civic clubs at other entrances to Alva.

The Registry Office is one of the most versatile spots on the campus. Veterans find Elsie Tate can help them with many of the problems that arise concerning the G. I. Bill. Lila Grace Chritton is the person to see when a student needs a transcript made.

Besides her other duties, Miss Huguley often saves the day by giving a perplexed student advice concerning enrollment, payment of enrollment fees, room and board fees, or by transcribing the courses and credits of some student who attended N.W.S.T. College back in 1910.

The Registry Office is also Northwestern's post office. Students and teachers make a daily stop to pick up their mail.

Kappa Delta Pi is a national honorary society in education. Delta Eta Chapter was established on the Northwestern State College campus January 11, 1936. Members are selected from those students in the Junior and Senior classes who rank among the upper fifteen per cent in scholarship and who have contributed to college activities.

The national society was founded in 1911 at the University of Illinois, created by the members of the University Education Club who were eager to promote education as a science and to promote a closer bond of fellowship among those dedicated to the profession of teaching.

J. V. L. MORRIS, Professor of Education, has been a member of the Northwestern faculty since 1923. He has an A.B. degree from Harvard University and A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University. A sponsor of Future Teachers of America, he is very conscientious in his effort to guide promising young teachers.

JOHN B. STOUT, Professor of Education and Director of the Training School, has held his present position since 1937. As head of the Teacher Placement Bureau, Mr. Stout aids Northwestern students in securing teaching positions. His degrees of study include an A.B. from Southwestern State College, a B.S. from the University of Oklahoma and an M.A. from the University of Chicago.

C.E. CAMPBELL, in addition to being Dean of Men, is Associate Professor of Education, and Advisor of Veterans. Having been active in many fields of service, he is well qualified for his position that he has held since 1933. He has an A.B. degree from Phillips University, an M.A. from the University of Colorado and was a student at the University of Toulouse, France. He has also made advanced study at the University of Colorado.

JONES GRAVES, instructor in in-service training, is well-known throughout the northwestern district of Oklahoma for his invaluable assistance to hundreds of high school and grade school teachers. He is also instructor of Audio-Visual Education on the Northwestern campus. Having held his present position since 1947, he holds an A.B. degree from Phillips University and an M.A. degree from the University of Oklahoma.

MATTIE LYDAY, Assistant Professor of Education, is known for her friendly smile and congenial spirit. Usually found in the Horace Mann building with some of her elementary pupils, she is always willing to give advice concerning teaching to college students. She holds a B.S. degree from George Peabody College and an M.A. degree from Columbia University. She has been affiliated with Northwestern State College since 1931.

EDITH W. HIGGINBOTHAM, Assistant Professor of Education, has held her position on the faculty since 1927. An instructor of the Horace Mann Training School, Mrs. Higginbotham holds degrees including an A.B. from Phillips University and an M.A. from Colorado State College of Education.

AFTON BILBY, a Northwestern graduate, is also an instructor in the Horace Mann Training School. Her experience with elementary pupils qualifies her as an excellent guide for students seeking positions in the elementary field. After receiving her A.B. degree from NSC she obtained her M.A. degree from Columbia University. Miss Bilby has been a member of the faculty since 1929.

Professor Jones Graves of the education department demonstrates the proper manipulation of a film strip projector. The audio-visual department also possesses three motion picture projectors, all equipped for sound, a Taylor spotlight and a large multipurpose opaque projector. Education students learn the proper methods of caring for machines and selecting and using audio-visual materials.

Northwestern's film library now contains more than $5,000 worth of films and is being steadily increased. Films are available to schools and other organizations in this area.

Teachers from Woods, Alfalfa, Harper, Garfield and Major counties attended a textbook workshop here during October. Mr. Jones Graves and True Emerson of the Oklahoma Department of Education were in charge of the workshop. Representatives from fifteen textbook companies demonstrated their wares to large numbers of attending teachers.

The Teacher Placement Bureau, under the able direction of Professor Stout, supplements efforts of department heads to place worthy graduates in desirable positions, to assist teachers in the field to gain advancement, and to assist school executives in securing the best teachers available.

Here Glenda McCulla goes over a teaching contract with Professor Stout.

Professor Campbell, always busy, checks a student's notes to determine what understanding the teachers-to-be are gaining of child psychology. Mr. Campbell maintains that you must learn children before you can teach them.

Lectures by outstanding educators and educational films have constituted a large portion of the activities of the Future Teachers of America organization on NSC's campus this year.

The Northwestern chapter was formed in 1938 and is sponsored by the National Education Association to foster a professional spirit among those planning careers as teachers. All students ranking above average scholarship are eligible.

Fine Arts

FINE ARTS BUILDING

Art

BESS CHAPPELL, Assistant Professor of Art, has been a member of the NSC faculty since 1945. Well-qualified for her position, she received a B.S. degree from N. E. Missouri State College, an M.A. from Columbia University and has done graduate study at the Skowhegan School of Sculpture and Painting, Columbia University and the University of Colorado. Always friendly and courteous, Miss Chappell takes great pride in her students and their accomplishments.

A fine arts department on the third floor of Jesse Dunn may be visited at any time. Paintings, drawings, objects of handcraft and many interesting art works may be found there. Northwestern offers a full schedule of art work.

A group of students visit the department during one of its two annual exhibits. They are admiring some aluminum trays and pieces of weaving done by NSC students. The department stages an exhibit once every semester.

A typical scene in the art laboratory finds a group working on oil portraits.

Instrumental Music

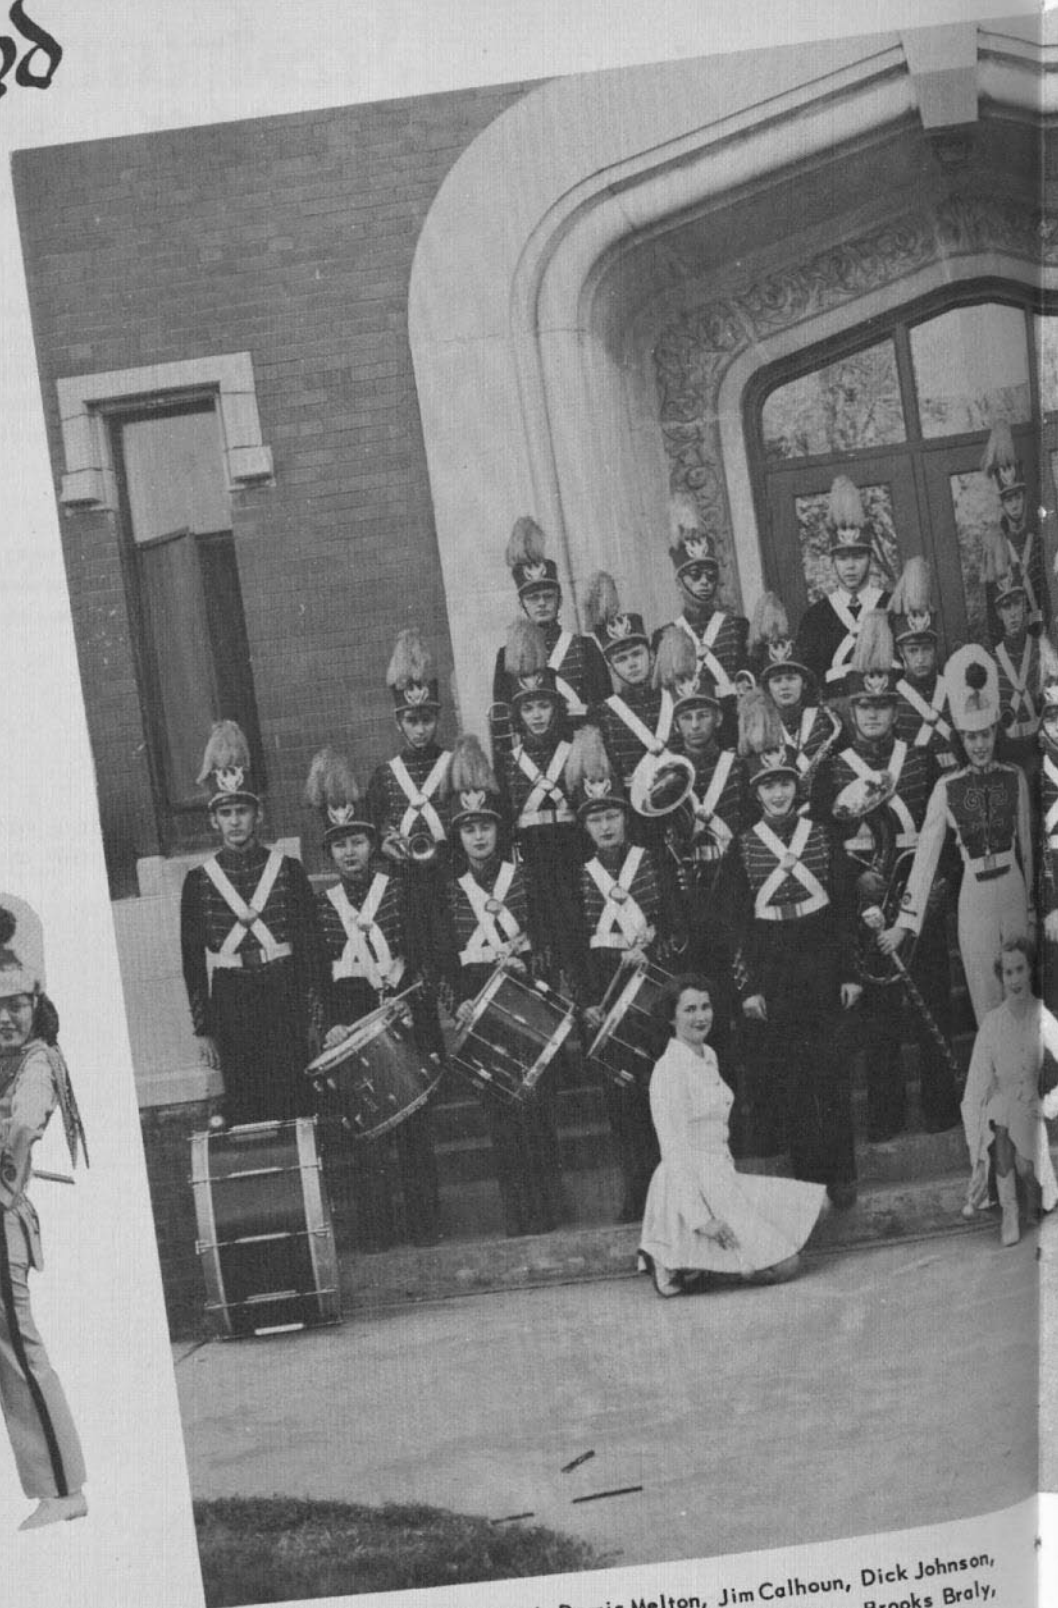

WILLIAM F. DEUSER, Associate Professor of Music and head of the music department, is always busy with his many duties. Teaching private lessons, conducting music classes, directing the band, and taking an active part in the field of music give him busy days, but days that are never too full for a friendly spirit and the time for any little problem of a student.

A talented violinist, he was a student at the New England Conservatory of Music, did advanced violin study with Eugene Gruenberg and Felix Winternitz and was an artist student of Andre Morin, Paris, France and Franz Kneisel, New York City. He has been affiliated with NSC since 1936.

THE RANGER TRUMPETEERS are a popular musical group at Northwestern. Having made many public appearances, they are always energetic and enthusiastic, enjoyed by every audience. Pictured are Pat Whitmer, accompanist, Dennis Kaiser, Clayton Poindexter and Wesley Mallory.

Piano

MAURINE KURSHILDGEN, Piano Instructor, is the latest newcomer to the Northwestern faculty and has already established herself as a congenial, well-liked person and an artistic musician. Having received her B.M. and M.M. degrees from the University of Oklahoma, she came to NSC in the summer of 1950. In addition to her heavy schedule of private piano lessons, Mrs. Kurshildgen is sponsor of the MacDowell Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurshildgen are shown here in the new piano studio in the Fine Arts Building with one of Northwestern's two new Steinway grand pianos. The entire music department moved from its quarters in Herod Hall to the Fine Arts building last fall. Now the entire west side of the third floor houses the piano department and soundproofed practice rooms sporting new Hamilton upright pianos. Ten new uprights were added to the department along with the new Steinways.

MacDowell Club

Organized in 1930 on the Northwestern campus by Mrs. Lois Binkley, the MacDowell Music Club, composed of NSC piano students and ex-piano students, strives to attain goals of appreciation and performance on the 88-keyed instrument.

Purposes of the club are to promote good music in the school and community, to acquaint its membership with the less known phases of music and to gain an appreciation of the great masters through an illustrated study of their lives and works.

MacDowell meets monthly, at which times the various phases of music, in all its beauty and meaning, are presented and discussed.

Popular indulgences of the club this year have been listening to records and viewing motion pictures concerning music.

Vocal Music

Miss Ruth Marie Genuit is always busy in her studio helping some vocal ensemble, giving a private lesson, or teaching a class; or perhaps she is directing the choir on the stage. Miss Genuit serves as guest director and judges many contests in this area. She is Assistant Professor of Music and holds a B.M. degree from Kansas City Conservatory of Music, an A.B. from Kansas City University and an M.M. from Northwestern University. She has also studied at the University of California and Columbia University. Northwestern is proud of its outstanding vocal music director!

The Choir, under the direction of Miss Ruth Genuit, does a great deal of hard work and has a great deal of fun rehearsing in the Fine Arts Building. Putting on the production, "H.M.S. Pinafore," with the help of the speech and physical education departments, is a shining example of their efforts.

Each spring the Choir makes tours to highschools in northwestern Oklahoma and southern Kansas. These "missions of good will" induce many students to come to NSC. When outstanding choirs are being discussed, one may be sure that the NSC Choir will enter the conversation.

RANGER MALE QUARTET, popular group on the NSC campus, is always ready with smiles and gay songs. Much in demand for public programs, the Quartet always leaves an enthusiastic audience still applauding for more. Northwestern is proud of its musical hit!

Vernon Polk, first tenor; Doyle Strong, second tenor; George Spellman, baritone; Sam Hill, bass.

VERNON POLK

Vernon presents his outstanding senior recital during January, just before leaving for the Armed Forces. Popular as a soloist, Vernan was known on the campus as one of the most outstanding voice students ever to attend NSC.

Waynell Mallory Wiebener, Mollie Weaver, Donnis Stebens, Pat Granger, Carol Melton and Rita Roessler get together for a sing session. This Girls' Sextet was organized on the campus this year and has been much in demand for public appearances. Among their many performances this year, the Sextet sang over station KCRC, Enid.

Theta Phi Beta

Theta Phi Beta sorority first appeared on the Northwestern campus to take its place among the honorary Greek organizations in November, 1939. At that time a group of fourteen girls banded together to increase the appreciation of music.

Social events of the year include a Founders Day Dinner, a Christmas party and a spring formal dance.

Thetas seek to advance and improve music appreciation on the campus, all musical programs being actively supported by the sorority.

Dramatics

MAUD A. DRAKE-BINGHAM, Associate Professor of Dramatics, is a graduate of Northwestern State Teachers College and of the Columbia College of Expression, Chicago. She has an O.B. from Lyceum Arts Conservatory, Chicago and an M.A. from the University of Oklahoma. She is nationally prominent for her work in the dramatic field.

The two major productions this year were the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "H.M.S. Pinafore", and Clement Dane's "A Bill of Divorcement".

Little Theatre

Northwestern's Little Theater is composed of students on the campus with boundless, well directed interest and activity in the dramatic field.

This organization is located in the new Fine Arts Building and boasts of the finest facilities in the state.

Annually the Little Theater presents two major productions. This year they have presented a highly successful "HMS Pinafore" and a three act drama, "A Bill of Divorcement."

Other than these two busy assignments, "Winterset," "Emperor Jones," "When the Sun Rises," and "Joan of Arc" have been presented as cuttings from great plays under students' direction.

It's been a great year for a great organization as all members have worked together to climb higher the ladder of success.

Gilbert and Sullivan's light opera, "H.M.S. Pinafore," was lauded as a great success after its presentation in Herod Hall by NSC students of the music, speech and physical education departments. The first production of its kind at Northwestern for many years, its charm and gaiety went to the hearts of all theatre-goers. Costumes and special scenery were shipped from Boston. Mrs. Charles Fox at the piano and Mrs. C. A. Parker at the organ furnished accompaniments.

The production was under the direction of Miss Ruth Genuit, music, Mrs. Maud A. Drake-Bingham, speech and Miss Inez Patterson, dancing.

Home Economics

OPHELIA BEARD, Instructor in Home Economics, graduated from East Central State College and took her M.S. at North Texas State College, Denton. Mrs. Beard has been with us since 1948, setting a standard for the well-dressed women on the campus and preparing young women for home life.

EVA WOOD is employed temporarily as instructor in foods and nutrition to fill a vacancy that occurred at the opening of the fall semester. Mrs. Wood, a graduate of N.S.C., has done graduate study at Oklahoma A & M College and at Iowa State College. Her friendliness has won her many friends during this brief time.

The Home Economics Department instructs the girls in the proper methods of clothing selection and construction and in meal planning and preparation. Also it guides them in many other home duties as well as gives them the proper experience necessary for teaching. The girls prepare delicious refreshments for the campus visitors who are participating in contests here or attending meetings. A casual walk past the door of the home economics kitchens often turns out to be a tantalizing experience.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department helps young men and women learn to build and upholster furniture, make various useful household articles from wood and metal. This department often constructs stage properties and other necessary equipment for other departments. Mr. May and Mr. Walters are justly proud of the products their students make.

GULLY WALTERS, Instructor in Industrial Arts, another graduate of N. S. C. received his Masters at Colorado State College. He has held his present position since 1948, and is well liked by students and faculty.

STANLEY W. MAY, Professor of Industrial Arts, heads that department which is noted for its excellent wood-working projects. Professor May practices what he preaches--the combining of art and utility in life. He is a graduate of the School of Industrial Arts, Oshkosh, Washington, and has an A.B. from N.S.C. and an M.A. from the Colorado State College of Education.

SEATED; Glenda McCulla, Lenora Hutcheson, Jo Ann Caldwell, Ernestine Shirm, Dovie Vanderhule.

The Northwestern Chapter of College Home Economics Clubs was organized September, 1937, and is now affiliated with the National Organization of College Home Economics Clubs. The membership for the current year is twenty members.

Club activities for the year include a Christmas party, a formal dinner for guests, and a tea honoring the senior members of the organization.

This year's programs have been built around the theme "Home Economics as a Basis for a Career." Several speakers have appeared before the group. Emphasis is also given to training in social ethics.

Membership is open to all women students.

Languages and Journalism

JEAN M. HOLLAND, head of the department of foreign languages, has been a member of NSC's faculty since 1928 and is distinguished for the high quality of her work and her sincere nature. Miss Holland received her A.B. and M.A. degrees at the University of Oklahoma and did additional graduate study at Middlebury College, the National University of Mexico and the University of Texas.

WILLIAM S. VANCE, Professor of English, is head of Northwestern's capable department of English. He received his A.B. degree from Baylor University, his M.A. from Harvard and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. He has done additional work at the University of California. Although a comparative newcomer, present position since 1946, his sly humor and wisdom have become a legend.

DAVID E. MACKIE, head of the journalism department and instructor of English, is known for his unceasing efforts to boost every department of the college and to publicize its achievements ever since his arrival here in 1947. He earned his A.B. at the University of Iowa, his B.J. and M.E. at the University of Missouri.

BENNIE HENRY, Associate Professor of English, received her A.B. at the University of Oklahoma, her M.A. at Columbia and has done additional graduate study at the University of Colorado, the University of Chicago, the University of California and the Bread Loaf School of English. She is loved for her sparkling wit and sympathetic understanding.

GLADYS JULIAN, Assistant Professor of English, has served NSC since 1945. She is extremely devoted to the literature which she teaches. A graduate of NSC, she obtained her M.A. from George Peabody College and has done graduate work at the University of Colorado.

TIME MARCHES ON and another "whirlwind" year draws to a close as Northwestern's "fourth estate" writes "30" to a profitable year of reporting accurately and promptly the progress of a great college.

BUILDING BETTER PUBLIC RELATIONS within the college and community has been the goal of the News as they have been a mirror of Rangerland, reflecting the successes and disappointments, the joys and sorrows, the defeats and victories of all those building their "castle of education" on the hill at Northwestern.

Ruby Barker was editor of the News during the first semester and Bob Kendrick took over for the second semester. Don Phipps and Richard Cummings have served as business managers.

Board of Publications

Members of the Board of Publications are chosen by the NSC Student Council, but function as a separate unit. The Board is the governing body of student publications on the campus, including the Ranger Annual and the Northwestern News.

All problems that arise concerning these publications are taken to the Board for discussion and action. The Board makes the final decision on the editor and business manager of both publications and approves the selection of staff members.

Dr. Vance, Miss Henry and Mr. Mackie are the faculty advisors of the Board. Imogene Tyree served as chairman this year.

The Board of Publications meets regularly once each month.

The Ranger

The editorial staff wrote copy, gathered information, kept in contact with campus organizations and classes, and set up the pages of your annual.

The business staff handled the financing of the annual—sold advertising, sponsored the king and queen contest, auctioned a watch. Richard Miller headed this staff. Being an artist himself, he inspired other staff artists in the painting of posters, laying out ads, etc.

The entire staff wishes to extend thanks to students and faculty of N.S.C. and to the businessmen of Alva whose cooperation made this book a reality.

Annual Staff

A striking example of Carlyle's "true university" is the college library which houses more than 36,000 volumes. Being a selective government depository, the library receives a valuable stream of bound and unbound government publications that constitute a separate department. Much specialized material is available here for research. The library has an entirely modern, air-conditioned reading room, four floors of stacks, periodical reading room and equipment to serve students, faculty, and townspeople.

FRANCES DU VALL, well qualified for her position as librarian, has held her present position since 1947. Always willing to help in the search of a "certain" book, Miss Du Vall is known for her efficiency. She received her B.S. degree from Central State College at Edmond and her M.A. degree from George Peabody College.

EDITH GORMAN, reference librarian, has been on the NSC faculty for three years and is in charge of the government documents. Known for her keen sense of humor, Miss Gorman is versatile and energetic. She holds a B.S. degree from Kansas State Teachers College and an M.A. degree in library science from the George Peabody College.

in American Colleges and Universities

These students were selected for "Who's Who" from the upper fourth of the junior and senior classes.

Qualifications considered are the student's scholarship, his leadership and cooperation in academic and extracurricular activities, his citizenship and service to the school and his promise of future usefulness.

Names and biographical data of the students selected appear each year in the annual publication of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. More than six hundred universities and colleges in the United States are represented in the Who's Who directory.

Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities was established at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, in 1934.

Mathematics and Commerce

WILMA ERNST, Associate Professor of Commerce, has charge of the accounting and business departments. She has been at Northwestern since 1940, and holds her B.S. from the Oklahoma College for Women and her Master of Commercial Education from the University of Oklahoma. Miss Ernst also has had summer graduate study at the University of California. Her constant efforts to boost Northwestern are sincerely appreciated.

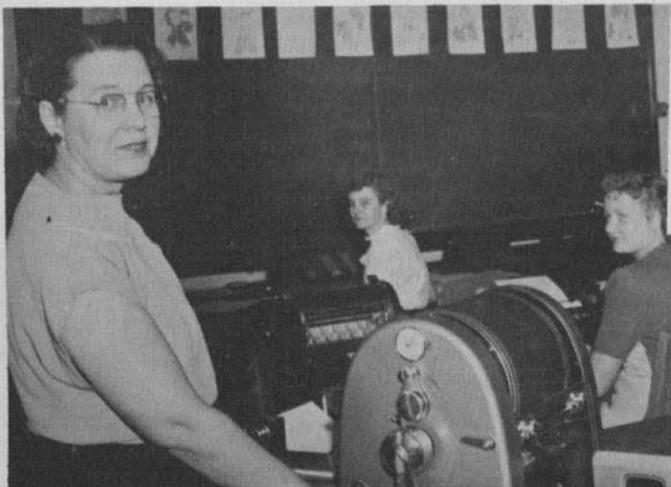

KATHRINE MIRES, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, has been at Northwestern since 1942. Her B.A. and M.A. degrees are from the University of Arkansas, and she has also had additional graduate study at the University of Minnesota. Always a friendly person, Miss Mires is well-liked by the student body.

KRISTINE BROWN, Instructor in Mathematics, has an A.B. degree in Education from Colorado State College and an M.A. degree from Columbia University. Mrs. Brown has been a member of the Northwestern faculty since 1947. She is always willing to help the students "figure" things out.

Miss Ernst is shown here in the business machines department demonstrating the new automatic mimeograph machine, one of the new machines recently added to the department.

ZELDA THOMAS, Instructor in Commerce, has the typewriting and shorthand departments. She received her B.S. from Arkansas State Teachers College, her M.S. from Oklahoma A & M College, and has done additional graduate study at the University of Oklahoma. A faculty member here since 1949, Miss Thomas is another of Northwestern's newer teachers. She is known for her courtesy and efficiency.

Social Science

DAVID W. PIERCE, Professor of History and head of that department, has held his present position since 1926. He is a Christian scholar with a purpose. He earned his M.A. at the University of Oklahoma after completing his A. B. requirements at Hendrix College.

MYRNA BOYCE, Dean of Women and Professor of History, earned her A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. at the University of Iowa. She has a large background of learning, not only in history, but also in art, music, and literature. Her brilliance and forceful speaking have made her known as one of Northwestern's most inspiring classroom teachers.

FRANK K. WADLEY, Professor of History and Government, completed his Ph.D. at Northwestern University. Frankness and simplicity mark him as an earnest, capable, unpretending instructor and account for his campus popularity.

FRANK H. HICKMAN, Instructor of Economics, came to us in 1949, and has already established himself as a man of vitality and intellectuality. Hailing from England, he possesses a B.A. and M.A. from Cambridge and also earned an A.M. at the University of Miami.

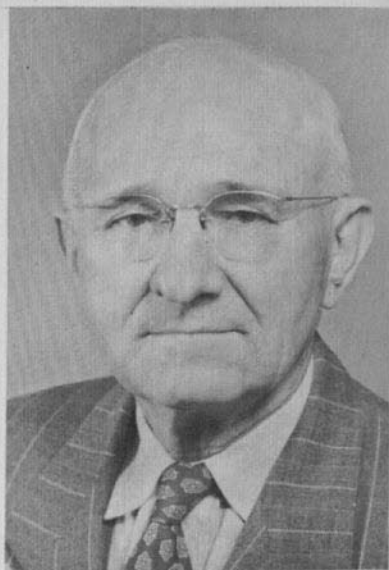

CHARLES A. PARKER, Associate Professor of History, is a graduate of Hendrix College, received his M.S. at the University of Oklahoma and has done additional graduate work at Columbia University. Since 1939, when he took his present position, he has patiently tried to create in students' minds a true picture of the world and its problems.

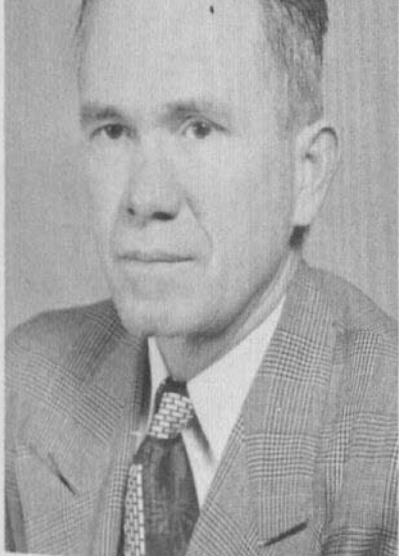

Science

DR. THOMAS C. CARTER, besides serving as Dean of Administration, is Professor of Biology. A graduate of NSTC, he received his M.A. degree from Colorado State Teachers College and his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Carter is an inspiring teacher--a gentleman and a scholar.

Pictured is a small section of the NSC Museum which was created through the spirit and pride of Dr. Carter. This museum is one of the most complete in northwestern Oklahoma. The bird collection adds nature's color to the large room which boasts assortments of everything from bones and skulls to ancient firearms. It is here that Dr. Carter keeps his rattlesnakes--visitors are warned not to handle specimens, they might be alive!

JOE W. MELTON, Professor of Chemistry, earned his B.S. at the Stephen F. Austin State College, his M.A. and Ph.D. at the University of Texas. He shows a lively interest in anything concerning chemistry, which, from his point of view is anything from comic books to tomato plants, to hydrogen, to musical instruments. We are convinced that he is a logical thinker and a "good Joe."

ANNA B. FISHER, Professor of Biology, got her A.B. at the University of California, her M.S. at the University of Chicago and her Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma. Since 1927 at NSC she has been exuberantly expostulating on the importance of backbones, jellyfish and tree leaves.

JOHN N. CAMERON, Professor of Physics, a graduate of NSC, received his M.S. from the University of Oklahoma. He is highly respected by the entire student body--takes an interest in all college affairs. Mr. Cameron has held his present position since 1926; it will be to the credit of Northwestern if he holds it for as many years more.

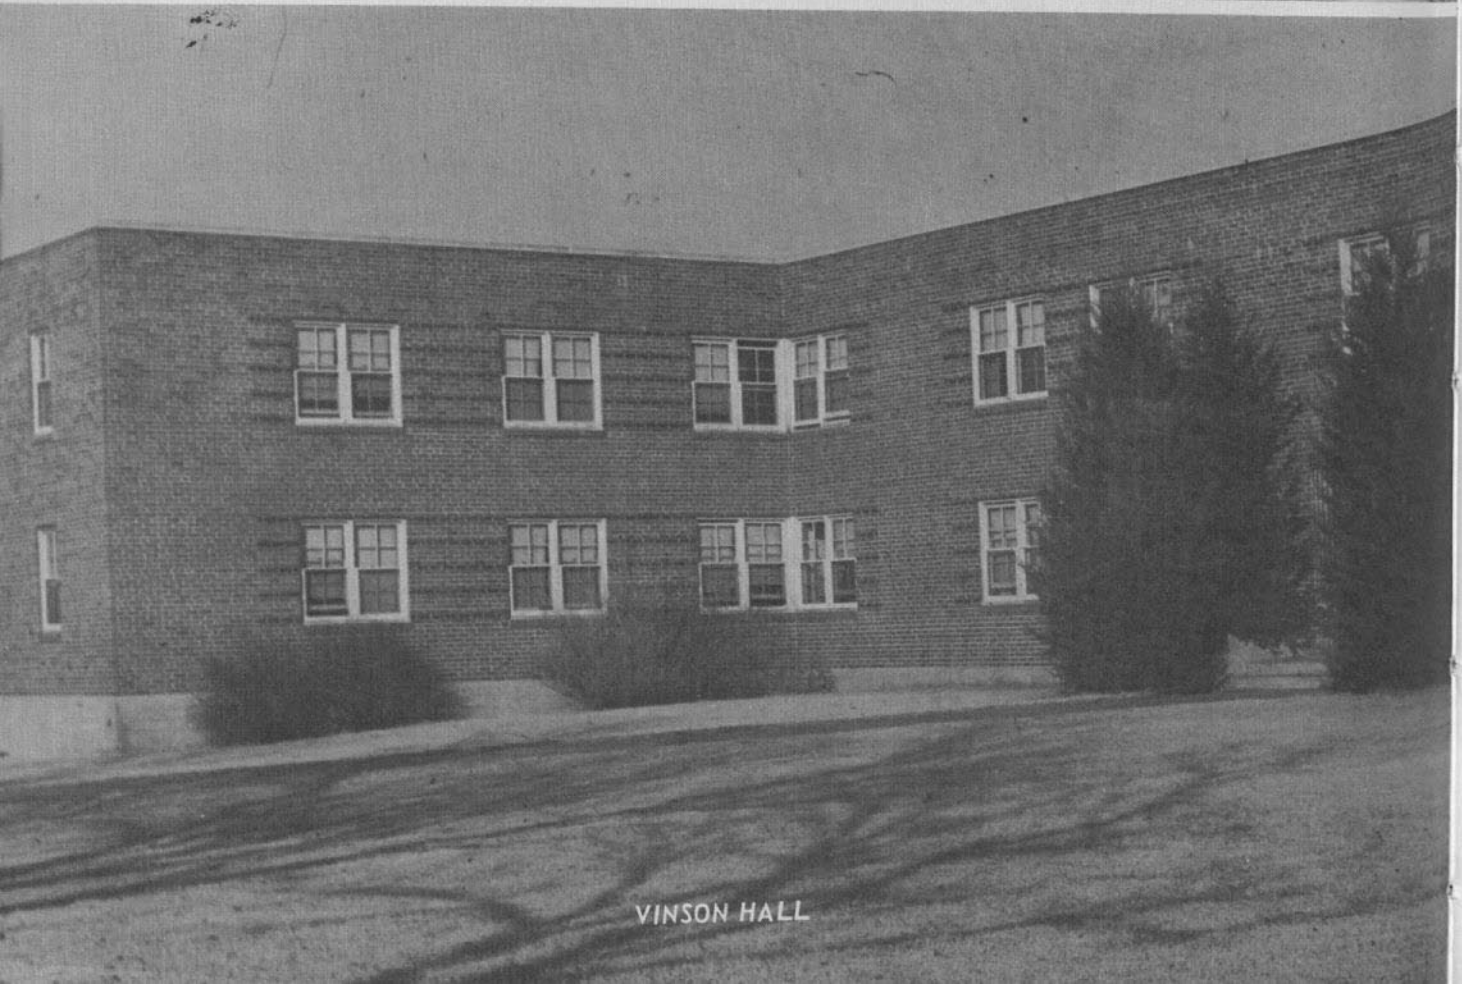

DEAN LESLIE, Instructor in Chemistry since 1949, received his B.S. here and his M.S. at Oklahoma A & M College. He is living proof that youth and spirit work an enthusiastic response from the school-goers.

RALPH F. STRETE, Professor of Geology, took his A.B. and M.A. degrees at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago. This quiet, shy man is well-liked by the students and he seems to reciprocate the affection.

FIRST ROW: Leo Eck, Jimmy Atwood, Bill Stout, Lewis Slater, Bill Highfill, Monte Roach, Glen Hipsher, Troy O'Hair.

Bill Gregg and Coach Highfill, standing in front of some of the Northwestern's trophies, look at the ball used in the last game of 1949, in which the Rangers beat East Central 14 to 6, in one of the upsets of the year. True to tradition, the Rangers again played heads-up football, giving all comers a hard fight for the conference crown.

Look at those heads of hair! And they were (and are) as rough as they look. The freshmen football members were some of the outstanding players who strove to keep up the spirit of the Castle on the Hill.

CLEAL HIGHFILL, Coach of Intercollegiate sports since 1946, took his A.B. degree from Northwestern State College and has made a good record for himself here. He has proved his ability to make outstanding athletes of the boys whom he coaches. Having been a well known Oklahoma ball player, he knows his work and his words mean something.

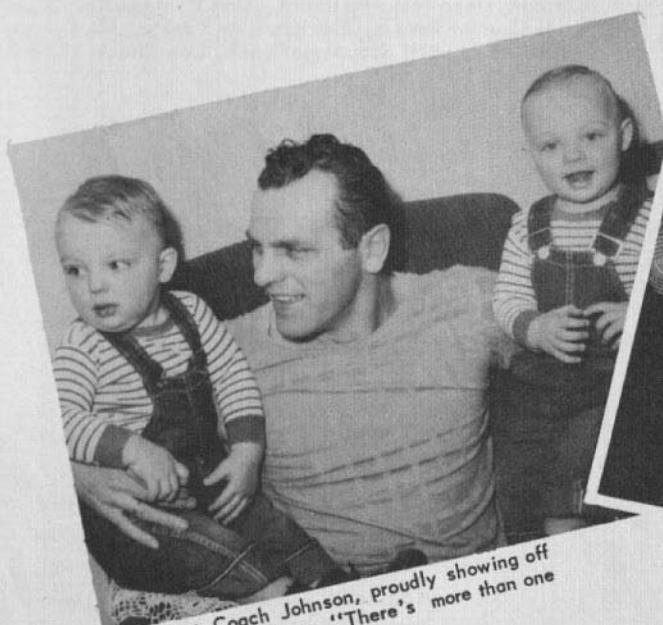

WISTAR NEWBY, Assistant Professor of Health Education heads the Health Education Department. He holds an A.B. degree from Friends' University and an A.M. from the University of Michigan. He has held his present position since 1943 and has an interest in improving health through proper application of physical education.

Coaches

Assistant Coach Johnson, proudly showing off his twin sons, says, "There's more than one way to raise a ball team."

Mr. Newby is perplexed by problems arising during preparation for the N.S.C. Invitational Highschool Basketball Tournament.

Eleven men on a field. This short phrase says little, but Northwestern football fans will always remember the year 1950-51.

This was the year the Rangers showed that school spirit can and DOES mean something. Yes, the eleven men on a field this year showed that cooperation and team work can work wonders.

Coach Highfill and Coach Johnson, to say nothing of Northwestern's student body, can well remember this year, for though there may be years when we will win more games, there will never be a year that we will play better football.

President Percefull presents Bob Wheat and Bill Greggs with miniature gold footballs in acknowledgement of their having been placed on the first team of Oklahoma's all-Conference team. Ray Kitchin and Bill Linihan were placed on the second team, and Jeff Landreth was given honorable mention, an honor, all Northwestern agrees, that was well deserved.

This is what makes a ball team--hard work and time. As can be seen here the Rangers are going to mean business in the game--Rangers are rough and ready.

This is the result of the training. This pass interception shows that the Rangers always play heads-up ball. Here the Rangers are on their way to another win through team work.

Standing by the new Ranger bus is Coach Highfill and bus driver Jack Bates. The bus is not only used by the athletic teams for their trips, but is also used by the choir on tours and by various other school groups. It has a capacity of 39 passengers who ride in comfort and luxury.

This group of girls are the majors and minors of physical education in this college. They take part in the many activity classes under the leadership of Miss Patterson.

Some of the sports engaged in are basketball, badminton, volleyball, kickball, softball and tennis. During the summer term these same people may be seen "basking in the sun" while enrolled in swimming class.

This group sponsors intra-mural tournaments each semester.

MISS INEZ PATTERSON, instructor of Health Education for women, has a B.S. and M.S. degree from Oklahoma A & M. Miss Patterson, familiar to all because of her sparkling personality, is the sponsor of the P. E. Major-Minor Club, Zippers, and the Ranger Square Dance Club. Each year she trains one square for exhibition purposes. She is also well known throughout the state as a Square Dance Caller.

Square dancing is a popular co-recreational activity on the Northwestern campus. Miss Inez Patterson is the prominent caller.

The Exhibition Dancers are always in great demand for entertainment. They tour nearby towns and were a feature attraction on a WKY Television Show.

Helping to create true Northwestern spirit is this pep organization for girls. Zipper members give their support by attending all home games and are willing to give their time and effort to all college activities where they are needed.

In conjunction with the Wranglers, the Zippers stimulate and lead the cheering section at the various athletic events.

The organization was reorganized on the NSC campus in 1946 and school cheer leaders are chosen each year from its membership.

The Wrangler Pep Organization was activated in 1934 for the purpose of encouraging pep on the campus of Northwestern.

This past year the Wranglers sponsored numerous after game dances. Trips were taken to Winfield and Edmond for football games, and Enid for the basketball game. The social highlight of the year is the annual Wrangler Spring Formal.

The Wrangler Queen was Miss Joy Cameron, daughter of Professor and Mrs. John N. Cameron. The red jackets of the Wranglers are the visible symbols of pep and good will at Northwestern.

At the left is Jerry Brownrigg holding a trophy he received as the outstanding boxer of the Oklahoma Golden Gloves Tournament. Jerry won the Oklahoma lightweight title and then advanced to the semifinals of the National Tournament in Chicago. After this tournament he was selected as a member of the Chicago team to fight a group of New York City boxers in an inter-city match at Madison Square Garden. Jerry is popular wherever he goes, and the best wishes and admiration of Northwestern are always with the smiling, slugging southpaw, who has achieved so many great goals for himself and Northwestern.

Enthusiasm, gaiety, and friendship mark Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority as its members carry out a full program of activities during the year. Dances, at Christmas and in the spring, parties, and observances compose a busy year that is climaxed in the spring with the Rose Formal Dance.

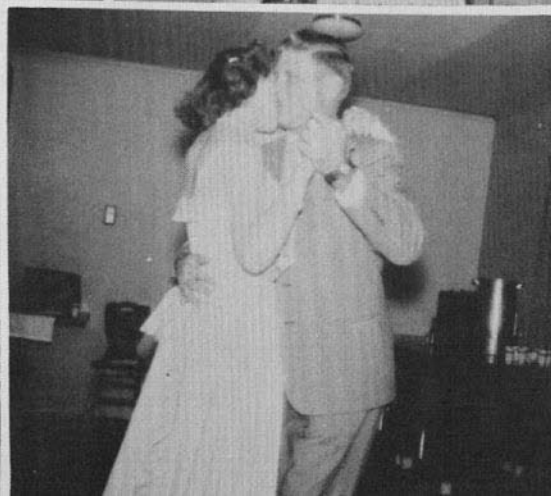

Founders' Day and Mothers' Day are observed, Christmas and birthday parties are held with alumnae members, and the student directory for the college is published by the chapter each fall--to mention only some of the activities.

The Delta Chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon was organized at NSC on April 4, 1916.

Formerly the Shakespeare Club, the sorority holds its aim in developing well-rounded personalities and encouraging high scholastic attainment among its members.

BONITA THROCKMORTON
"Rose of Sigma Tau"

Sigma Tau Gamma is the largest men's fraternity in its field. Founded at Warrensburg, Missouri in June, 1920, the fraternity is a member of the National Inter-Fraternity Conference.

The principles of Sigma Tau Gamma are to promote scholarship and leadership, and to build citizens of tomorrow through the use of "cooperation, consideration and character."

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, is the society for those who have done outstanding work in the field of Dramatics. Because of the strict requirements for membership in this organization, few students may become members before their senior year; therefore, it is impossible to maintain an active chapter on the Northwestern State College campus.

Gamma Rho cast or chapter has been on the campus for eighteen years. Members are vitally interested in the organization, and they maintain an active interest even though the chapter cannot have regular meetings. Membership in Alpha Psi Omega will always be the goal of every industrious member of Little Theatre.

Baptist Student Union

The B.S.U. was organized at Northwestern in 1935 for the purpose of bringing about a stronger tie between the student's school and church life. The membership is composed of all Baptist and Baptist-preference students on the campus and includes the following unit organizations: Sunday school, B.T.U., Y.W.A. and Noon-Day Watch.

Each spring the B.S.U. sponsors a banquet for all students as a climax of the year's activities. The banquet this year was held on April 12.
